FOUNDING AFFIDAVIT

I, the undersigned,

PETER ANDREW FAUCITT,

do hereby make oath and say:

1.

1.1 I am a major businessman, with Identity Number 520430 5708 18 5.

1.2 I am resident at 20 River Road, Morning Hill, Bedfordview, Johannesburg, together with the first respondent.

1.3 The facts herein contained fall within my personal knowledge, unless otherwise stated or as may otherwise appear from the context in which they are stated and are, to the best of my knowledge, both true and correct.

1.4 I have been involved personally, and continuously with the subject-matter of this application.

1.5 I am accordingly able to confirm, as I hereby do, that the contents of this affidavit fall within my personal knowledge, unless otherwise stated or as may otherwise appear from the context in which they are stated and are, to the best of my knowledge, both true and correct.

1.6 Any submissions of a legal nature are made on the advice of my legal representatives, which advice I have accepted as being true and correct, and upon which I act accordingly.

1.7 The contents of the documents to which reference is made herein must be read, with respect, as if specifically incorporated, and repeated herein.

2.1 The first respondent is my wife, JACQUELINE FAUCITT, a major businesswoman with Identity Number 570607 0898 18 1, who is resident at 20 River Road, Morning Hill, Bedfordview, Johannesburg.

2.2 I do not seek any relief against the other respondents, save for costs, if they should oppose this application.

2.3 The respondent is represented, and this application shall, accordingly, be served on her attorneys of record.

2.4 I am advised that an application such as this (which seeks contempt of Court) should also be served personally — the sheriff shall be instructed accordingly, by my attorneys of record.

3.

This Honourable Court has the necessary jurisdiction to adjudicate this application.

4.

AD FACTUAL BACKGROUND

4.1

4.1.1 On 19 August 2025, I was required to make application ("the main application") to this Court, under this case number, on an urgent ex parte basis. That application may be found on caselines at pocket 001.

4.1.2 The first and second respondents therein were my wife, and my son Daniel James Faucitt.

4.1.3 The resulting order of court, in my favour, is annexed hereto marked "PF12", and may be found at pocket 0 on caselines.

4.2.1 Following the main application, and due to our personal relationships, a mediation was arranged between the respondent, I, and our son Daniel Faucitt (all represented by our attorneys), which was held on 18 September 2025; I pause to mention that I do not refer to the remaining respondents herein, as they are not relevant to this application, and have no legal interest herein.

4.2.2 The mediation was successful in that two written agreements resulted therefrom, the first providing for my wife to undergo psychological evaluation (along with the remainder of us for the sake of equality), and my son to be screened for drug abuse (along with the remainder of us for the same reason aforesaid), and the second agreement to facilitate the implementation of the order of court I obtained on 19 August 2025.

4.2.3 My wife and son, shortly thereafter, attempted to repudiate our agreements; I lodged a second application ("the second appli- cation") accordingly, under this case number, to have them made orders of court, on 3 October 2025. That application ("the second application") may be found on caselines at pocket 008.

4.2.4 These applications remain pending.

4.2.5 Those agreements, which do not dispose of the relief sought in the main application, are annexed to the second application marked as "PF13", and "PF14", and may be found on caselines at pockets 008:7, and 008:8.

4.2.6 That application became opposed, and has not yet been adjudicated. To date hereof, no answering affidavits have been filed.

4.3.1 On 4 November 2025, due to the further egregious conduct of my wife, I was constrained to lodge a second urgent application against her, also under this case number, to have the order of 19 August 2025 varied as set out in the notice of motion thereto, rather than pursue contempt proceedings against her

4.3.2 That application, which was opposed, and which may be found on caselines at pocket 011, was dismissed.

4.4 I refer to the previous applications, as set out above, so as not to render this application unduly prolix and request, with respect, that this application be read together with the previous applications; the facts set out therein are directly relevant to this application, and I refer to the contents thereof as if specifically incorporated herein, in support of this application.

4.5 Notably, the herein respondent's contempt, save for as recorded herein, is also evident therefrom.

AD THE PRESENT APPLICATION

5.1 The respondent is, with respect, well aware of the order granted by this Honourable Court on 19 August 2025.

5.2 I approached this Honourable Court with the second urgent application on 4 November 2025 to compel the respondent's compliance with the aforesaid order, rather than seek a finding that she is in contempt thereof, and the imposition of an appropriate sanction.

5.3 In dismissing that application, the presiding Judge stated that I had an alternate recourse, namely contempt of court proceedings.

5.4 I hoped that the respondent would not further escalate her conduct, which was already such as to justify, with respect, a finding that she was in contempt.

5.5 Regrettably, however, her behaviour thereafter was such as to compel me to lodge this application.

6.1 On or about 10 January 2026, with our offices scheduled to re-open following the holiday period, I obtained a list of required stock from our warehouse manager (which I attach hereto marked as "PF14").

6.2 As is our norm, our stock, packaging and raw materials, are kept at our home (to prevent the theft thereof), from which we withdraw such quantities therefrom to our warehouse (for picking and packing, if I could describe it simplistically) — where our products are packed, and from where they are distributed to our clients — as is sufficient to service the orders placed from time to time.

6.3 Other than being sufficient to service our orders, same is necessary to do so.

6.4.1 On 10 January 2026 the respondent, for reasons best known to herself, prevented myself and Oliver ('Arthur') from removing stock from the store at our house necessary to service the new orders the business had obtained and to replenish stock in the warehouse, to the significant potential prejudice of the business, were it not for the fact that I managed to remove the stock after her refusal, whilst she no longer 'manned' the stock-room, to have the necessary stock conveyed to our warehouse on 13 January 2026, to service the new orders, in the estimate value of R 200 000.00.

6.4.2 I may not be as fortunate the next time stock is required.

6.4.3 Suffice it to say, with respect, the respondent acted maliciously, deliberately, irrationally, and defiantly in an obvious effort to subvert the first order of this court, obtained against her on 19 August 2025 (annexure "PF12" hereto).

6.5 On 10 and 12 January 2025, my attorney and the respondent's attorneys discussed the aforesaid telephonically.

6.6 Those calls were followed by a letter addressed by my attorney to the respondent's attorney on 12 January 2025, a copy of which is annexed hereto marked "PF15", in which it was recorded that the respondent was preventing the removal of the stock from storage, thereby preventing the provision to the businesses' clients, and that her conduct constituted contempt of court.

6.7.1 The respondent's attorney replied to that letter the same day (annexure "PF16" hereto), in which the respondent's conduct was never denied, and a vague attempt was made at defending her conduct by stating, inter alia, that she was extremely concerned that stock will be stolen, taken, and not accounted for, and stating that the respondent now required adequate notice for the collection of stock.

6.7.2 This was the first time that the respondent had acted as aforesaid, which destroys any contention of any reasonableness on her part.

6.7.3 The respondent, presently, will not allow a stock take to be done – at some point, this will prejudice the businesses, as some required and necessary stock will be missed, and not replenished.

6.7.4 This will undoubtedly lead to unfulfilled orders to clientele.

6.8 It was usual for stock to be removed as aforesaid, of which the respondent was well aware and there can be no doubt whatsoever that she intended to sabotage those orders, and thereby the business of Regima Skin Treatments (fourth respondent in the main application), in defiance of the aforesaid order of court – the negative effects extend to the third and sixth respondents as well.

6.9 Further regarding the response by the respondent's attorney, I place the following on record:

6.9.1 The respondent does not participate actively in the businesses;

6.9.2 There is no acceptable reason whatsoever for the entities to suddenly be required to follow the steps and notice demanded by the respondent, for it to be able to provide its products to its clients;

6.9.3 My reference to all stock (upon which the respondent seized to create a frivolous issue) never meant all the stock in the stock room, and obviously so. It pertained to the stock that was to be collected then for the business, as was usual;

6.9.4 I in fact provided to the respondent the list of stock to be taken upon attempting to collect same. When I did so she still flatly re-

7.

AD KNOWLEDGE OF THE ORDER

7.1 The respondent is, with respect, very well aware of the order of 19 August 2025 against her, as well as the contents thereof, as is clear from the aforesaid.

7.2 The respondent has signed not only one, but two settlement agreements regarding the order of this Honourable Court, undertaking to abide thereby, which undertaking she has also breached.

7.3 The bank cards, per the order, have also never been handed over.

AD THE RESPONDENT'S FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH THE ORDER

8.1 The respondent has breached the aforesaid order of court, and deliberately and contemptuously so.

8.2 Her non-compliance/breaches include, inter alia:

fused to allow the release thereof, and then crumpled up the stock sheet (insofar as I am aware – as the sheet provided to her never returned, and I as a result never had further sight thereof), and took it with her.

6.10 The respondent is, with respect, in clear contempt of the aforesaid order of court.

6.11 Save for as aforesaid, it is notable that the respondent has, suddenly and following the order, started attending to the office of the entities, on an almost daily basis.

6.12 She arrives with a 'body guard' (working for Risk International, based on the credentials I have seen, and who the respondent introduces as her driver – although he remains present with her at all times), and separate to her inter alia direct intimidation of employees from time to time, this carries a hugely negative and prejudicial effect on staff morale, and interferes unduly with the clientele of the fifth respondent, who frequent the coffee shop in our building, which the respondent now sits at from lunch time to the late afternoon.

8.2.1 Specifically frustrating the fulfilment of the orders placed with the business, to its clear prejudice;

8.2.2 She has also, to date hereof, failed to surrender the bank cards as ordered by this Court;

8.2.3 She also removed Oliver's ('Arthur') work phone from his person, disallowing communication between the warehouse, office, and stock room for the sake of stock removals and stock taking (as was addressed by my attorneys in terms of annexure "PF17").

8.3 The respondent is therefore in clear, and deliberate non-compliance with the Court Order, the ineluctable conclusion being that she acts in bad faith deliberately.

8.4 As a result of her contemptuous non-compliance with the aforesaid Order, I am unable to manage our entities without first facing prejudicial conduct from the respondent, which is affecting profitability and/or will negatively affect profitability, more so when stock is refused to be removed by the respondent, due to her deliberate breaches of the aforesaid order of this Honourable Court.

8.5 As aforesaid, my attorneys addressed a demand (annexure "PF15" hereto) to the first respondent, through her attorney; in terms of annexure "PF16" hereto, she acquiesced thereto.

8.6 Notably, the respondent thereby effectively admitted her contempt.

8.7 The respondent clearly, with respect, has no intention of complying with the aforesaid court order; her conduct is repetitive.

9.1 Regrettably, I am left with no other option but to approach this Court for an order as set out in the notice of motion, to the contents of which I refer as if specifically incorporated herein.

9.2 My conduct, with respect, and as is clear from the matters launched herein, has been to seek any resolution not to punish the respondent – I am left with no other options, however.

9.3 It is evident, with respect, that the respondent feels untouchable (and has no regard for any consequences of her actions), and that nothing less than a finding that she is in contempt, and an appropriate sanction, will cause her to desist.

9.4 It cannot be stressed enough that unless an order is made as prayed, the respondent will persist in her wilfully contemptuous misbehaviour, which will prevent the continuance of our profitable businesses (which sustain us) not only to their detriment, and mine, but also to her detriment, and the detriment of our son.

10.

10.1 The respondent treats the said order (and our agreements based thereupon) with nothing less than wilful contempt, and her behaviour in doing so is detrimental to our businesses, and our livelihood.

10.2 The very purpose for which the aforesaid order was granted is being thwarted, and will continue being thwarted unless this Court exercises its authority.

10.3 I have no desire to have the respondent punished, but unless this court intervenes, she, our entities, my son, and I will continue to be prejudiced as a result of her conduct; it is essential accordingly to make application to this Court, as I now do.

10.4 Respectfully, this Honourable Court has made an Order that must be enforced.

11.

11.1 I have been advised that the requirements for the Order I seek are the following:

11.1.1 The existence of an order of court;

11.1.2 The contemnor must bear knowledge of the said order;

11.1.3 There must be non-compliance with the order;

11.1.4 Such non-compliance must be wilful and/or mala fide.

11.2 I am advised further that once the first three requirements are proved, the contempt is presumed to be wilful, and mala fide.

11.3 I say with respect that the aforesaid requirements have been met.

12.

The conduct of the respondent is, with respect, so egregious as to justify a punitive costs order against her.

WHEREFOR I PRAY, WITH RESPECT, FOR AN ORDER IN TERMS OF THE NOTICE OF MOTION and

DANIEL JAMES FAUCITT
(Identity Number: 8207155300182)

(Together "the Parties")

1. Introduction

1.1. Peter Faucitt obtained an ex parte order against Jacqueline Faucitt and Daniel Faucitt under case no: 2025-137857. A number of disputes arise in relation to the order and the relief sought in respect of part B of the proceedings under case no: 2025-137857.

1.2. The parties have agreed to settle in good faith the disputes which exist between them on the basis set out below.

1.3. The parties agree to remain bound by the terms of the aforesaid order of Court until such a time as same is set aside or agreement is reached with regards to the finalisation of the aforesaid matter.

2. Settlement

2.1. Forensic investigation

2.1.1. The parties jointly agree that Forvis Mazars will be appointed to conduct a forensic investigation into the financial affairs of the third to sixth respondents in case number 2025-137857.

2.1.2. The parties' attorneys of record will jointly finalise the terms of reference, which will include but are not limited to:

2.1.2.1. Interviews being held with Peter Faucitt, Daniel Faucitt, Jacqui Faucitt, Rynette Farrar and any other role players identified by the investigators;

2.1.2.2. The investigation will address aspects relating to the IT payments processed from the accounts of the third to sixth respondents, misappropriation of funds and procurement concerns; and

2.1.2.3. The investigation being concluded without any delay.

2.1.3. The costs of the forensic investigation are to be borne by the third to sixth respondents.

2.2. Transaction process

2.2.1. Pending the conclusion of the forensic investigation, the process for transfer of any funds or transactions in respect of the accounts of the third to sixth respondents shall take place as follows:

2.2.1 1. Peter Faucitt will, prior to giving effect to any transfer of funds or transactions on the accounts of the third to sixth respondents, Peter Faucitt will send an email to Jacqueline and Daniel Faucitt specifying the nature of the transaction, value of and brief description for the transaction; and

2.3.2. Daniel Faucitt will prepare a schedule setting out the date, value and brief description of the transaction, along with supporting documents and/or invoices

2.3.3. The reimbursement will take place within seven (7) business days of receipt of the schedule and documentation referred to in paragraph 2.3.3 above.

2.4. Processing of business-related payments

2.4.1. Peter Faucitt (through the third to sixth respondents) agrees to effect payment of the SAGE account of the third respondent.

2.4.2. The parties hereby acknowledge that the reference to "registered owner" does not indicate any proprietary interest in the third respondent and is merely a term used by the service provider.

2.4.3. All other business expenses which have not been paid will be identified by Daniel and/or Jacqui Faucitt and provided to Peter Faucitt who will then arrange payment of such expenses, from and on behalf of the relevant entity, and subject to the provision of supporting documentation and/or invoices therefore

2.5. Upon receipt of the forensic investigator's written report, these mediation proceedings shall reconvene for the purposes of discussing and effecting the forensic investigator's findings and written recommendations, together with any other issues that flow from the forensic investigation report.

2.6. Pending the mediation referred to in paragraph 2.5 above, the time periods for the filing of further papers in respect of the proceedings under case number 2025-137857 remain suspended, as the proceedings remain pending.

2.7. Insofar as the court order dated 19 August 2025 under case number 2025-137857 is concerned, the parties agree that paragraph 2.8.3 will be read as follows:

> "are interdicted and directed to answer all questions put to them in regard to the forensic investigation and the experts appointed by the forensic investigators, honestly and forthrightly"

2.8. This shall not preclude any party from approaching a Court for any appropriate or necessary relief.

3. Costs

3.1. Save for the costs referred to in paragraph 2.1.3 above, each party will bear their own costs.

4. General

4.1. This settlement agreement constitutes the sole agreement regarding the subject (subject to any further agreement entered into between the parties) matter hereof and no amendment or variation shall be of any force or effect unless reduced to writing and signed by all the parties.

RE: PETER ANDREW FAUCITT // JACQUELINE FAUCITT & DANIEL JAMES FAUCITT & 7 OTHERS

CASE NO: 2025-137857

The above-mentioned matter refers, as well as all correspondence exchanged between our office and yourself.

We wish to confirm the telephonic discussion between writer hereof and yourself, on the 10th of January 2026, as well as the 12th of January 2026.

We wish to advise accordingly, and as discussed, that our client has confirmed that your client (Mrs Faucitt), is inter alia preventing the removal of all stock from the storage, which prevents provision of such stock to clientele.

We accordingly hold instructions to demand, as we herewith do, that your client release the stock by 14:00, on even date.

By failure of which, our client's rights remain reserved herein.

We further record, specifically, that your client's conduct constitutes contempt of Court.

We await your response, and confirm that our client's rights remain strictly reserved, in toto.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Sir / Madam,

1. I refer to the above matter and to the attached correspondence.

2. My client will not refuse for stock to be collected. Having said that, your attached correspondence is contrary to what was advised during our telephonic discussion on 10 January 2026 in that:

   2.1 During the telephone conversation, you advised that not all the stock will be collected. In your attached correspondence, you state now state that all the stock will be collected. Please clarify this issue as there should be no reason why all the stock is to be collected. My client utilises the stock and for the benefit of the businesses. In further amplification, stock has been at the residence for many years and it is unusual and not the norm for all the stock to be collected.

3. As you are aware, there exists no trust between our respective clients and as such, my client is extremely concerned that stock will be stolen and / or taken and not accounted for. This will need to be avoided and adequately addressed before stock is released. Perhaps a suggestion would be to have an independent third party attend to a proper stock take.

4. Notwithstanding the above, my client requires adequate notice for the collection of stock as Oliver attends to household services for the property including garden services in addition to business related services.

5. The above is not exhaustive and my client's rights remain reserved.

6. I await to hear from you.

Kind Regards,
Rudi Pottas

Dear Sir / Madam,

RE: PETER ANDREW FAUCITT // JACQUELINE FAUCITT & DANIEL JAMES FAUCITT & 7 OTHERS

CASE NO: 2025-137857

IN RE: COMMON HOME

The above-mentioned matter refers, as well as all correspondence exchanged between our office and yourself.

We wish to advise that we are instructed that your client has inter alia made it effectively impossible for our client, due to her present and past conduct, to continue to reside with your client in the common property.

Our client is, as a result, considering vacating the common household temporarily.

If our client indeed proceeds therewith, we confirm that same will be so done under protest, and without forfeiting possession, and/or his rights, pertaining to the aforesaid property.

We accordingly, in this regard, further advise, as we trust you are aware, that the stock is held at the common property, for the entities.

Accordingly, we request an urgent undertaking from your client, before the close of business on 03 December 2025, that should our client so vacate the premises, that his access thereto will not be restricted, and that our client will be entitled to continue to attend thereto, for the sake of inter alia access to the stock, and stocktaking (but not limited thereto).

We await your urgent response in this regard.

Further, we confirm that our client has been advised that your client has once again removed the company phone from Oliver's possession.

We are instructed to remind your client that Oliver is an employee of the entities, is paid by the entities, and is accordingly not your client's personal employee.

We accordingly, and in terms of the aforesaid, are instructed to demand that the company phone be returned to Oliver, and in such regard, hold instructions to demand that your client undertake not to remove same from Oliver's possession.

We remind your client of the content of the present order of Court, and trust that your office will inter alia explain the possible consequences of contempt of Court to your client.

We await your urgent response, before close of business on 03 December 2025, and confirm that our client's rights remain strictly reserved.

Yours faithfully,
