Sage Business Cloud Accounting Subscribed – Invited User Switch Disclaimer

Switching the administration of a profile to a currently invited user.

In your best interest and ours, this disclaimer provides full details of the required information to process an administrator username / email address change from the existing username to an invited username.

Please read through this disclaimer in full and complete the requested information before signing and returning to us.

We cannot proceed to make the changes without this disclaimer, signed by the current profile administrator.

If the current administrator is unreachable we require the following to complete this request:

- If the current administrator is deceased:
  - We require this form to be signed by the requester with his / her valid ID copy. A copy of the current administrators death certificate, the company's registration documents and an affidavit stating why the profile should be released to you e.g. You have inherited the company / the physical company belongs to you / you are the majority shareholder etc.

- If the current administrator is no longer employed by the company / any other dispute:
  - We are not at liberty to change the profile administrator without the permission of the current administrator due to legal reasons and we will not be able to assist until there is a mutual agreement. The profile belongs to the creator and all changes must be authorised by him/her.

Requirements:

- The new administrator user must have access to all companies on the profile.
- A valid ID copy of the existing profile owner must be sent with this signed disclaimer.
- You will have to contact the renewal department (cloud.systems@sage.com) to make any payment / subscription changes to the profile as no amendments will be made by the support team.

Turnaround time:

NOTE: Please allow us until the end of the business day to complete this request. If the request is sent after 4pm – this may only be completed the next morning.

Once the administrator username / email address switch is successful and available on your profile, a confirmation email will be sent to you.

Kind Regards
