LETTER OF DEMAND

RE: MS JACQUELINE FAUCITT // RYNETTE FARRAR

We hereby confirm that we act on behalf of RYNETTE FARRAR herein (hereinafter referred to as "our client").

Your client, the First Respondent, Ms Jacqueline Faucitt, has delivered an answering affidavit under case number 2025 – 0137857, in which she repeatedly names and accuses our client of various forms of inter alia misconduct, misappropriation, dishonesty, financial diversion, and unlawful competition (which are denied).

Our client is not a party to the aforesaid litigation.

She was accordingly afforded no notice, no right of reply, and no procedural opportunity to defend herself against the allegations made about her personally.

Without limiting her rights, our client directs attention to the following paragraphs of your client's answering affidavit, wherein your client inter alia:

1. Accuses our client of instructing customers to divert payments from the respondent companies into different accounts allegedly opened by her, resulting in depletion of company funds and bounced expenses (para 75 thereof);

2. Accuses our client of controlling bank accounts unlawfully and taking instructions only from the applicant (para 66; 146; 148 thereof);

3. Accuses our client and her son of starting a UK business that "takes revenue and profit" from the respondent companies (para 94–96 thereof);

4. Accuses our client (through Addarory (Pty) Ltd and the domain regimaskin.co.za) of competing unlawfully with the respondent companies, and doing so while employed as bookkeeper of the fourth respondent (para 95–97; 130–132 thereof);

5. Alleges that our client is redirecting customers to a company owned by her son and acting "in consort" in pilfering business opportunities (para 134–135 thereof);

6. Alleges that photos posted or circulated by our client were false, misleading, detrimental to the RegimA brand, and created an unauthorised false affiliation (para 119; 137 thereof);

7. Accuses our client of posing a risk of taking stock worth R5 million or using stock/raw materials for the UK entity (para 114–115 thereof).

These allegations collectively assert and/or imply inter alia:

1. dishonesty,
2. fraud,
3. misappropriation,
4. breach of confidentiality,
5. violation of non-disclosure and non-compete agreements,
6. theft or pilfering of stock and raw materials,
7. financial misconduct and manipulation of corporate accounts,
8. unlawful competition.

The aforesaid allegations are denied, unfounded, defamatory, injurious and factually incorrect.

Our client accordingly hereby demands that your client, within 48 hours of receiving this letter:

1. Issue a written retraction and apology to our client for the publication of untrue and defamatory allegations about her, which shall be recorded in an affidavit;

2. Cease and desist from making any further defamatory statements—whether in pleadings, correspondence, publications, or communications—to or about our client;

3. Furnish written confirmation that your client will not republish or repeat any of the defamatory statements, nor cause or permit any third party to do so, which shall also be recorded in an affidavit;

Should our client be left with no further recourse herein, but to institute action and/or motion proceedings, we advise that your client will be held liable for the costs of the same, which costs will be sought on a punitive scale.

Save for as aforesaid, our client reserves her rights to lodge a criminal complaint for inter alia crimen injuria (which is not exhaustive), should the aforesaid demands not be met.

We accordingly confirm that our client's rights herein remain reserved in toto.

We await your urgent correspondence and cooperation herein.

Yours faithfully,
