We'll organize stock one way or another i'm just thinkin its a good time to get long term plans in order and the cost will be 30%-50% less depending on batch sizes...

I don't know if the UK have enough time for that before we run out. What do you suggest we do? Would be handy to get one more order even if we have to pay upfront?

Hey,

Ok I will save them. We're surviving. We probably have enough stock until Christmas the latest so would be handy to know what is going to happen with an order or if we will potentially be jobless 😬
