Dear All,

Following discussions with Jacqui and Peter yesterday, please see attached and below my email correspondence of last year regarding the Unit 9 Southview Park property owned by RegimA @ Dr H Limited. (The attached Office Copy documents relating to the property show the position as at February last year and will need updating in due course).

My colleague, Richard Higgs (copied), met Dan last year so knows the background to the proposed transaction. We have also discussed this morning the concerns the company has about Isaac Chesno.

Please would you contact Richard when you are in position to proceed with the transfer of this property and he will advise you on what will be required.

Regards

Chris

Hi Dan

It was good to meet you yesterday. I have obtained copies of the title and lease to the property, which I attach.

There is no restriction on the company's ability to assign the lease. There are obviously ongoing requirements to pay the £50 per year ground rent and the service charge, which I assume are in hand.

You are going to be speaking to the bank in the next few days in order to determine whether to repay or restructure the existing loan on the property when it is transferred from RegimA @ Dr H Limited to RegimA UK Limited.

One matter we need to take care of whilst you are here in the UK is to comply with anti-money laundering regulations; as I am now acting for Dr H and UK Limited, it would be helpful to obtain a copy of your passport whilst you are here – please can you drop in with the original at some point so we can sort this.

Hi Chris

I've just been going over a few scenarios regarding capital asset strategies for the coming financial year. Do you handle matters relating to commercial property conveyancing etc? I'm looking at transferring the office property we own from the subsidiary into the parent holding company. Understandably this would require some paperwork etc.. Also please let me know when is a good time to chat so we can discuss present matters etc..

Subject: RE: Simply Regima Ltd - In Liquidation

Dear Mr Tayton

I will try to address your points in the order of your letter. Firstly, please could you confirm who you act for?

In a previous letter/email you said it was Regima @ Dr H but in your recent communication you suggest they are not a creditor.

Also, in your below email you said:

We are working with our client on the response. It is taking a little longer than expected as the paperwork is very detailed.

We should be grateful if you would bear with us until Wednesday 22 June 2016 to respond.

It would appear you have gone through an exercise of gathering and reviewing paperwork. Therefore, if you could provide copies of the same and put that into context it might assist us.

I have emails on file from Daniel Faucitt sent throughout May 2015 where he refers to himself as the sole director of Regima @ Dr H. This does not fit your timeline of Regima Zone processing distribution and negotiating new terms with Simply Regima during early 2015. Furthermore, you state that Regima @ Dr H didn't cease distributing products until January/February 2016. This is all very confusing. Do you have any contemporaneous evidence that will add clarity to this situation?

Simply Regima made a payment of £13k to Regima Zone on 1 May 2015. Regima Zone maintain this was due on 30 April 2015 (not 30 April 2016 as you mistakenly write). However, nothing has been provided to support this as being a breach of any contract terms. I can only infer that such evidence does not exist. Simply Regima enjoyed 5 years of successful trading prior to the arrival of Regima Zone – it's hard not to form a link between the two events. I cannot entertain the idea that Simply Regima was late in making payment without an agreed contract setting out the accepted terms.

The statement provided by Regima Zone shows three invoices being raised post 1 May 2015 – the invoices are worth a total of £763.94. Can you produce any copy purchase orders or communications that prove Ms Burrey circumvented the normal procedure and somehow tricked staff into fulfilling these orders? Similarly can you produce any communications that set out the correct procedure for placing orders and demonstrate those were acknowledged by Ms Burrey and/or Simply Regima? Without evidence it's impossible to form an opinion as to whether this was due to devious behaviour by Simply Regima or simply a lack of controls within Regima Zone. But considering the sum involved it would hardly seem commercially worthwhile spending too much time reviewing this.

Noted.

The statement of affairs proved to be incorrect. I can confirm that the company's bank account was overdrawn by £4k at the time of liquidation. Ms Burrey has explained that Simply Regima traded exclusively in Regima products. I have now interrogated the bank statements and they support this position. There is no evidence that payments were made to other creditors/suppliers or that Ms Burrey benefitted from the demise of Simply Regima at the expense of its creditors.

As before, I fail to see how this is relevant or suggests any fraudulent activity on the part of Ms Burrey or Simply Regima. I can confirm that Simply Regima did purchase a centrifuge and that this was given to a client. Until recently the centrifuge has been at the client's premises but it has since been returned to Ms Burrey. The centrifuge is an asset owned by Simply Regima and will be realised by the liquidators. Considering the value when new (£1,800) two years ago, I do not think this realisation is a game changer. But it will go some way to extinguishing our fees.

As explained above and previously, Ms Burrey is personally liable for the account of Simply Regima. And bearing in mind that I have been able to confirm Simply Regima had no other suppliers/creditors to prefer, I cannot see any instance of preference. The bank statements are that of a very consistent and simple nature – money is received from customers then wages and overheads are paid in the normal course of business. There is nothing to suggest wrong doing. There is no activity on the account after May 2015, it would seem the business was not trading but simply in limbo awaiting some form of winding-up action.

I would add that Simply Regima had no dealings in business with Danielle De Winter. It would appear that since the liquidation Ms Burrey has forged a relationship with Danielle De Winter that is in no way linked to the insolvency. There is nothing sinister or concerning about this. I have been contacted by Danielle De Winter as someone linked to Regima (I cannot categorically say your client as I don't know who that is) has contacted them and made factually incorrect remarks about the liquidation of Simply Regima and Ms Burrey. There is nothing to be gained from this rather risky behaviour.

I consider that the liquidator has completed the necessary investigation. This liquidation is ready to be closed once the centrifuge is sold and our fees and expenses have been paid.

I do not propose to keep going over the same points or reading into hearsay without evidence. It serves no purpose and does not benefit creditors. There is no cause of action here.

Should you be able to produce any compelling evidence that does give rise to a possible recovery action please let me know.

Otherwise I will proceed toward closure without further reference to you.

Yours sincerely

Subject: RE: Simply Regima Ltd - In Liquidation

Dear Christopher

From the correspondence you have reviewed you will note that disappointingly your client has never confirmed the date the sub-distribution agreement was terminated and on what grounds it was terminated. This will assist in establishing a date of insolvency, without which potential claims for preference, wrongful trading and misfeasance are unlikely to succeed.

I should be grateful if your client would respond fully on this point. As your client had taken action to place orders on hold and threatened winding-up proceedings, I trust they can be clear on this and provide a timely response.

Responding to the points in your letter:

My investigations in this respect remain ongoing and I will respond more fully in due course. You should note that Ms Burrey was personally liable for the company's bank overdraft. Therefore, I struggle to get my head round why your client believes Ms Burrey would increase the overdraft to prefer other creditors, when she is only making her personal position worse.

On a similar note, please see attached.

I should be grateful if you would ask your client to explain why Laura Puttick was advising customers of the company to make payments to them. Those debts should have been paid to the liquidators for the benefit of creditors as a whole. I have also attached an account statement that shows various payments received by your client between 10 June and 18 June. Who did these payments come from? Were they payments made by customers of the company as a result of Laura Puttick's intervention?

a) Noted.

b) In paragraph (a) you state that Jeunesse, Enerzona and Danielle De Winter were suppliers to the company. You go on to state that payments to those suppliers was not for the commercial benefit of the company. I think this requires further clarification as I fail to understand how paying a company's suppliers does not benefit that company commercially.

   Also, in an account where receipts are mixed, how does your client expect to establish that the company (not Ms Burrey) used funds received specifically from the sale of Regima products to pay those suppliers? Furthermore, why is the source of funds important?

c) Please provide the evidence referred to so the liquidators can consider this further.

The liquidators have already submitted their return to DBIS, the content of that return is confidential. However, your client's comments and concerns have been taken into consideration, thank you for your assistance and co-operation to date.

Yours sincerely

Dear Sirs,

We are working with our client on the response. It is taking a little longer than expected as the paperwork is very detailed.

We should be grateful if you would bear with us until Wednesday 22 June 2016 to respond.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Sir / Madam

Your lack of response is concerning and leads me to believe the evidence cannot be provided as it does not exist.

Under the circumstances I see no reason to delay in closing the liquidation process.

Yours faithfully

Dear Sir / Madam

I write to confirm receipt of your letter.

I look forward to receiving your findings/thoughts and an update on your client's claim in the liquidation in due course. The liquidation will remain open for a reasonable amount of time to allow this. However, it will not be left open indefinitely. Therefore, I ask that in the first instance you provide more information within 28 days.

Your client has made a number of vague accusations but has failed to provide any evidence in support of them, despite my requests. At the same time I have not had a response to my questions surrounding the timing of the sub-distribution agreement being terminated and the grounds for that termination.

I have spent considerable time corresponding with your client and it should be noted that any claim they have would be against a company already in liquidation. And any claim the company in liquidation may have against Ms Burrey would belong to the liquidators. The liquidators currently have unpaid time costs of circa £8k and any realisations would first be utilised to pay those outstanding costs as a liquidation expense. Therefore, it's worth taking into consideration the likely outcome and commerciality of what your client hopes to achieve.

Yours faithfully

Neil Allen
